PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Meet the liyama LH9875UHS-B1AG monitor, which sets a new standard in large-format displays for commercial applications. This 98-inch monitor is designed to meet the needs of the most demanding users, offering incredible image quality and reliability, perfect for dynamic business and public environments.

The liyama LH9875UHS-B1AG monitor features a massive 98-inch screen with a 4K UHD resolution of 3840 x 2160, providing exceptional image sharpness and detail. IPS technology guarantees wide viewing angles and excellent color reproduction, making every image look realistic and vivid.

Thanks to the innovative AG (Anti-Glare) anti-glare coating, the monitor effectively reduces light reflections, allowing comfortable use even in brightly lit rooms. As a result, the image remains legible and clear in all lighting conditions.

The liyama LH9875UHS-B1AG monitor is designed for long-lasting and reliable operation. Its robust design and heavy-duty components are designed for heavy use 24/7, making it an ideal choice for public spaces such as airports, shopping malls and hotels.

The monitor offers a wide range of connectivity options, including HDMI, DisplayPort, VGA and USB connectors, allowing easy integration with a variety of systems and devices, providing great flexibility in configuration.

The liyama LH9875UHS-B1AG has advanced content management features that allow remote control and scheduling of displayed content. With built-in software, users can easily manage displayed content, making the monitor an excellent tool for advertising and visual communication.

The monitor is designed to minimize energy consumption and environmental impact. It has various energy-saving modes, allowing users to effectively manage energy consumption while taking care of the environment.

The liyama LH9875UHS-B1AG monitor is an ideal choice for commercial spaces such as retail stores, shopping malls, airports and hotels where excellent image quality and reliability are required. It will also work well in corporate environments where it can be used for presentations, video conferencing and dynamic information displays.

The liyama LH9875UHS-B1AG monitor combines impressive screen size, exceptional image quality and reliability. With advanced technologies and smart features, this monitor is an indispensable tool in any commercial or public space.
