The fixture delivers a luminous flux of 6000 lumens and offers beam angles of 19° and 36°, making it suitable both for effective space illumination and for creating dynamic lighting scenes. The bar offers DMX512 control as well as the EZchase function, which allows you to create delay effects and smooth lighting sequences without complicated programming. Standalone modes are also available, including sound, autorun, master/slave, static and endless loop. The 16-bit dimming resolution ensures smooth brightness control, while the PWM frequency can be set to 650, 1,530, 2,000 or 4,000 Hz. The fixture is equipped with 3-pin XLR DMX input and output connections, as well as Seetronic TRUE1 power connectors that allow power to be linked through to additional fixtures.
