PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The HP Z420 is a Z series workstation with a Mini-Tower type housing, whose elegant design and low noise level guarantee appropriate ergonomics.

Proposed by the SQM Multimedia Support computer is equipped with the C602 chipset and the E5-1650 processor from the Intel Xeon series, whose four cores and the 3.6GHz base frequency ensure the reliable operation of the equipment. The graphics unit is provided by NVIDIA with the GeForce GTX 980 model. The graphics card is equipped with DisplayPort, HDMI or USB-C connectors.

The Hewlett-Packard workstation has 16 gigabytes of DDR3 RAM and three high-speed SSD flash drives - each with a capacity of 120GB, which gives a total of 360GB high standard memory. On the front panel, the user has 3 USB ports (including 2 in version 3.0), 3.5mm connectors and a FireWire port developed by Apple. The back panel also has USB ports (six pieces), again a FireWire port, as well as a LAN and PS/2 connector for computer accessories.

The Z420 is a perfectly adapted workstation for carrying out heavy tasks - it is facilitated by a reliable power supply, an effective cooling system and a housing with the possibility of easy expansion of components.
